BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP) - The Center for Business and Economic Research is to hold its coming quarterly northwest Arkansas session in Bentonville.

The event is set for 11:30 a.m. Wednesday at NorthWest Arkansas Community College.

The featured speaker will be Kathy Deck, director of the Center for Business and Economic Research.

Attendees will get an update on the economy's progress. Deck says economic indicators are good for the region and should be considered in business planning for the remainder of the year.
