Multifamily Real Estate Market Summary for Benton and Washington Counties

This report is the ninth edition of the Skyline Report for Benton and Washington Counties-Multifamily Real Estate Market Analysis. Researchers at the Center for Business and Economic Research (CBER) in the Sam M. Walton College of Business at the University of Arkansas produce the Skyline Report to provide timely statistical analysis of the Northwest Arkansas multifamily real estate market. This study is a companion piece to the quarterly single-family residential and commercial Skyline Reports. As the population of the region grows, there is increased demand for all types of housing. Understanding the supply of multifamily housing opportunities is critical to understanding the overall residential market, particularly as low interest rates have made home ownership more appealing relative to leasing comparable residential space. The information contained in the following pages details the current condition of the multifamily market and sets the stage for future comparisons.

Highlights from the Third Quarter of 2006

- Vacancy rates for multifamily properties in Northwest Arkansas declined from their second quarter 2006 level of 7.5 percent to 7.7 percent in the third quarter of 2006. The third quarter 2006 vacancy rate was higher than the third quarter 2005 vacancy rate of 5.7 percent.
- Fayetteville had the lowest aggregate vacancy rate at 4.9 percent, down from its rate of 5.7 percent in the second quarter. The Rogers vacancy rate also fell to 7.5 percent. The vacancy rate in Bentonville was up from the second quarter rate of 7.6 percent to 12.5 percent in the third quarter. The Springdale vacancy rate also rose to 11.7 percent. Vacancy rates rose in Siloam Springs from 4.8 to 5.0 percent.
- The average lease price per month for a multifamily property unit in Northwest Arkansas was up about $11 to $514.
- On a price per square foot basis, multifamily units were least expensive on average in Siloam Springs at $0.54 per square foot and most expensive on average in Fayetteville at $0.64 per square foot.
- Additional condominium projects were announced in Northwest Arkansas. Most of the multiple story condominium activity is in Fayetteville, while in Rogers and Bentonville, condominium complexes are coming on the market.

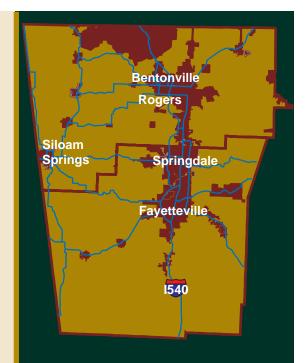

Study Structure and Methodology

The results of an in-depth data gathering process are presented and analyzed in this report. Data from three distinct sources were used to examine the characteristics of the Northwest Arkansas multifamily residential housing market. Second, building permit data were examined to identify any multifamily units that were new to the market. Then, the databases from the Benton and Washington County Assessors' offices were searched to identify existing multifamily properties. Finally, a survey of the population of multifamily property managers was conducted in order to collect the characteristics of the Northwest Arkansas multifamily housing market.

The Skyline Report is structured in the following way. In the second section, a review of relevant economic statistics is presented to set a context for examining multifamily housing. In the section that follows the economic overview, regional comparisons are detailed. A table containing information about multifamily building permits issued in the last twelve months is shown second, followed by a short discussion about the kinds of properties that are being permitted. A table with announcements of coming multifamily projects follows. Next, there is an analysis of the data obtained from the Benton and Washington County Assessors' offices. The total number and the square footage of the population multifamily properties in Northwest Arkansas are broken down by major city. Then, the coverage of the sample of CBER survey respondents is discussed in relation to that population. Finally, vacancy rates, average unit sizes and average floor plan prices, all calculated from the survey sample, are presented on a regional basis.

The report then turns to a more detailed city-by-city analysis. For this report, Bentonville, Fayetteville, Rogers, Siloam Springs, and Springdale were examined. For each city, information on the size and lease price of available floor plans is presented. Following those aggregated numbers are two matrixes with details about the sampled properties. The second matrix includes occupancy statistics and available lease durations for each property in the city's sample. The third matrix details the mix of amenities that each property provides for its residents.

In order to collect this specific information about Northwest Arkansas multifamily residential properties, CBER researchers surveyed the population of multifamily property managers. To identify potential respondents, databases from the Washington and Benton County Assessors' offices were searched. Contact information was obtained where available and at least three phone contacts were attempted for each respondent. When no response was forthcoming, the properties were physically visited by a surveyor.

The Northwest Arkansas multifamily market includes the following five major cities:

- 1. Bentonville
- 2. Fayetteville
- 3. Rogers
- 4. Siloam Springs
- 5. Springdale

As the ninth edition of the multifamily series of the Skyline Report, this study provides some comparisons in vacancy rates, prices, unit sizes, and other multifamily property characteristics. In future reports, trends will be further examined.

Economic Overview

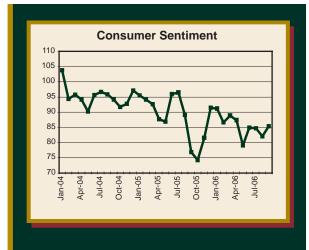

To get a sense of the Northwest Arkansas multifamily housing market, it is useful to look at some key macroeconomic statistics. The University of Michigan produces the Consumer Sentiment Index. The Index of Consumer Sentiment was 85.4 in the September 2006 survey, up from 82.0 in August 2006, and significantly up from the Katrina-influenced value of 76.9 in September of 2005. The Index of Consumer Expectations, a closely watched component of the Index of Leading Economic Indicators, rose slightly to 78.2 in September from 68.0 in August and the 63.3 recorded in September of 2005. In contrast, the Current Economic Conditions Index fell to 96.6 in September 2006, down from 103.8 in August and 98.1 in September 2005.

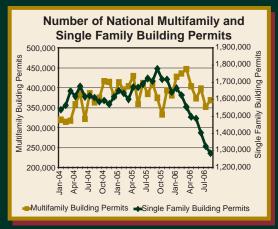

"Consumers held a much more positive outlook for the overall economy as well as prospect for their own financial situation, despite more negative evaluations of their current financial situation," according to Richard Curtin, the Director of the University of Michigan's Survey of Consumers.

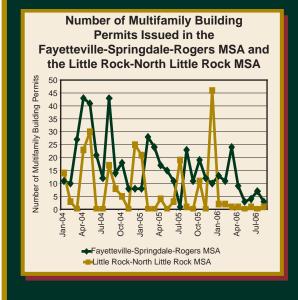

The U.S. Census Bureau estimates the issuance of building permits. The August 2006 national level of multifamily building permits reflected a one month improvement and was not significantly below the August 2005 level, while the August 2006 single family building permits reflected an eleven month decline from their most recent high in September 2005. The August 2006 level of single family building permits was significantly lower than the August 2005 level.

Turning to the two major metropolitan areas in Arkansas, the Fayetteville-Springdale-Rogers (FSR) MSA and the Little Rock-North Little Rock (LR) MSA, different patterns on a smaller scale are apparent. The accompanying graphs show the number of multifamily building permits and total number of residential building permits issued in the two metro areas. Interestingly, despite its much smaller population, the FSR metro area had a greater number of building permits (both multifamily and total) than the LR metro area during the past twelve months. Despite a great deal of seasonal variation, the trends of the multifamily building permits and total building permits in the both metropolitan areas are declining slightly. No significant changes in the pace of growth in the number of residential or multifamily building permits are expected.

On September 20, 2006 the Federal Reserve Board left the target for the federal funds rate unchanged at 5.25 percent. This was the second meeting of the Federal Reserve where no change was implemented. As the accompanying graph shows, the spread between short term rates and conventional 30-year mortgage rates has declined more than 325 basis points since its most recent peak in June 2004. The ten-year treasury interest rate and the 30-year conventional mortgage rate bottomed out in June of 2005 and have been increasing moderately since that time, but not at the same velocity as short term rate increases. In the past few months, longer term interest rates have declined a bit, even as the three-month rate has increased. This has caused an inversion of the yield curve at some maturity levels.

Finally, a graph showing employment trends in the FSR metro area is included. Employment in the region continues to grow at the same pace as its five-year trend, adding approximately 600 jobs a month to the region. Because employment growth is the single most important factor in determining demand for housing of all kinds, there must be an awareness of the possibility of structural changes in the labor market. The data show no evidence that the rate of job growth in Northwest Arkansas will abate in the near term.

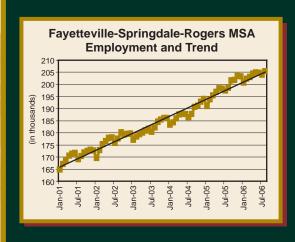

Regional Overview

The Northwest Arkansas multifamily housing market is driven by the demands of the populations in its various communities. Multifamily housing serves multiple purposes in Northwest Arkansas. In Fayetteville, home of the University of Arkansas, the state's flagship institution of higher education, much of the supply of multifamily housing is designed to serve the increasing and ever-changing student population. In addition to providing student housing, multifamily properties also act as low-income housing for those whose financial status and credit ratings are not sufficient to purchase a single-family home. Thus, as areas like South Fayetteville are redeveloped and previously existing affordable single family residences are demolished, the demand for multifamily housing should increase. Finally, multifamily properties serve as transitional housing for those who are between single family residences or for those who unlikely to remain in a particular location long enough to make the purchase of a house make economic sense. The growth in the number of executive suites in Northwest Arkansas is a testament to demand driven by transitional factors. Additionally, in Rogers and Bentonville, a number of upscale properties with monthly leases comparable to monthly mortgage payments have entered the market. These properties are designed to provide easy accessibility to the commercial districts of the cities and are designed to appeal to tenants looking to eliminate property maintenance responsibilities. These upscale properties are pushing up average rents in the cities and are having an impact on vacancy rates.

The growth in the condominium market in Northwest Arkansas deserves some mention. In Fayetteville, there are two kinds of condominium projects coming on the market-luxury high-rise buildings, located downtown and on Dickson Street and more affordable condominiums in building complexes being built on the edges of town. In Rogers, there have also been some condominium projects announced in building complexes. The other market trend that is beginning to appear is the conversion of some high-end apartment complexes into condominiums. A prime example is the changeover of Bristol Gardens on the Creek into the Reserve at Steele Crossing. The low interest rate environment has made the market conditions for high-end, high-rent apartments particularly difficult, as mortgages for single family homes are available for the same monthly payments.

The associated table gives some information about announced condominium projects. The information gathered shows that the condominiums are selling from between $113 and $400 a square foot, with average square footages varying between 500 and 3,748 square feet. In Fayetteville, these properties account for 1,725 units and in Rogers there are 736 condominium units in these projects alone.

Building Permits

The associated table details the building permits that have been issued for multifamily housing purposes over the past twelve months. Ten projects with values greater than a million dollars were permitted during the period. Five of these were located in Fayetteville, two were located in Rogers, two were located in Springdale, and one was located in Bentonville. The Fayetteville projects involve the construction of the Bedford Loop Apartments near the University, the Fairlane Apartments, the Piedmont Condos near Washington Regional Medical Center, and the Junction Street Apartments. In Rogers, there are apartments and condos being constructed off West Walnut and North 30th Street at the West Cedar Circle Apartments. The Springdale projects are The Links at Springdale and the Remington Place Apartments complex, off of Butterfield Coach Road. In Bentonville, the Sunset Development has been permitted.

The business press was examined to formulate the attached table of announced new projects. These projects are in addition to those that have already been mentioned in the building permit section and should be considered jointly with the building permit information in order to get a firm picture about the supply that is coming onto the market.

Northwest Arkansas Multifamily Properties

Building permits give a good indication of the types and amounts of space that will become available on the market in the near future. However, to understand the existing stock of multifamily properties, CBER researchers examined the property tax databases from the offices of the Benton and Washington County assessors. From those databases, parcels that were classified as multifamily residential were identified and then results were aggregated by complex to avoid double counting. Unfortunately, the databases do not include any measure of the number of units associated with a particular property, but rather the total square feet of any buildings on the parcels are provided. Therefore, the number of properties by city and the total square feet of multifamily residential space are provided in the accompanying table.

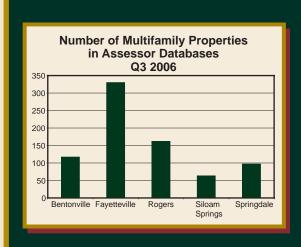

The database search showed that Fayetteville had the most multifamily properties in Northwest Arkansas with 330, totaling almost 4.2 million square feet. Following Fayetteville, in descending order from most multifamily properties to fewest were Rogers, Bentonville, Springdale, and Siloam Springs. The total number of multifamily properties in these cities in the third quarter of 2006 was 769 with a total size of almost 12.3 million square feet.

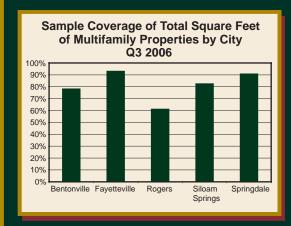

CBER staff attempted to obtain additional information about each of the multifamily residential properties in these five cities. A survey instrument was developed to ascertain the number of units in each property, the number of units currently available for lease, the types of different floor plans, the prices of different floor plans, lease durations, and the amenities associated with each property. An online data collection tool was used to streamline the process and to make responding more convenient for apartment managers. The results from this surveying effort comprise the remainder of this report. In the third quarter of 2006, information was collected on 80.6 percent of the existing square footage of multifamily properties, compared to 81.8 percent in the second quarter of 2006.

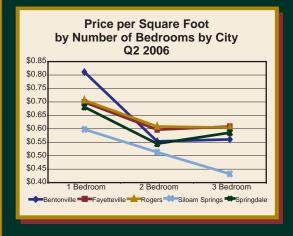

In the analysis that follows, it is important to remember that the survey sample disproportionately measures large properties with many units, rather than small multifamily properties. In as much as the large properties drive the market for multifamily housing, extrapolating the results to the entire population is entirely reasonable. Within the third quarter survey sample, there were 23,259 total units in 469 multifamily residential properties. These properties had a combined vacancy rate of 7.7 percent, up from 7.5 percent in the second quarter of 2006. The highest vacancy rate was in Bentonville, at 12.5 percent and the lowest vacancy rate was in Fayetteville at 4.9 percent. In the third quarter of 2006, Siloam Springs had a vacancy rate of 5.0 percent, Rogers had a vacancy rate of 7.5 percent, and Springdale had a vacancy rate of 11.7 percent. Within the sample, the average lease price per month in Northwest Arkansas was $513.76, up from $502.84 in the second quarter. The average size of a unit was 836 square feet, up from 814 square feet in the previous quarter. The average monthly price per square foot of a multifamily property was $0.61, down from $0.62 in the second quarter of 2006. Breaking down the price and square footage by floor plan yields other interesting statistics. On a price per square foot basis, the least expensive floor plans had four bedrooms at $0.57. The most expensive floor plans, on average, were studio apartments at $0.84 per square foot per month.
